FOO FIGHTERS
TAKE COVER 2027 DATES ANNOUNCED

THE BAND PLAYS WERCHTER PARKLIFE ON 19 JUNE
GENERAL ON SALE TO BEGIN 20 NOVEMBER AT 10AM

"It's impossible to not be swept up in the energy of a Foo Fighters gig, as the band's stirring riffs and rousing lyrics combine to provide the sort of cathartic experience that only live music can offer. It's easy to see why Foo Fighters have developed such a revered reputation as one of the most reliable live bands out there, as the show hit all the beats a gig should." - Liverpool Echo

"Three hours flew by in a flurry of turbo-charged hits" - The Times

Foo Fighters' biggest ever tour just got a whole lot bigger: The band has announced a massive series of new dates across Europe and the UK taking place in summer and fall of 2027.

The newly announced shows will run from June 9 in Reykjavik through September 18 at Dublin's Croke Park, and will include the band's return to the Festivalpark in Werchter (Belgium) for Werchter Parklife on 19 June. They'll be joined by a stellar support line-up featuring Iggy Pop, The Hives, Violet Grohl, Florence Road and Alice Mae.

Foo Fighters recently wrapped the 2026 North American leg of the Take Cover stadium tour, which saw the band bring "three hours of rock mayhem and celebration" (The New York Times) to its largest crowds ever in Toronto, Chicago, Philadelphia, Washington DC and more. The band is currently in the midst of a blockbuster trek through Australia and New Zealand, where its Sydney stop was lauded by the Sydney Morning Herald for its "raw energy and intensity" and featured a rare performance of "Ballad of the Beaconsfield Miners" dedicated to Beaconsfield miner Todd Russell on the day of his passing.

The 2027 Take Cover run will undoubtedly see Dave Grohl, Nate Mendel, Chris Shiflett, Pat Smear, Rami Jaffee and Ilan Rubin continuing to blow eardrums and expectations with exhilarating three-hour rock and roll marathons packed with Foo Fighters classics, deep cuts and surprises.

Further dates including North America will be announced shortly.

Tickets for the Belgian date go on sale this Friday, 20 November at 10am via ticketmaster.be. For further information, go to werchterparklife.be or foofighters.com.
